Susana A. Mendoza is the Illinois Comptroller, a truth-telling fiscal watchdog, and the first Hispanic independently elected to statewide office in Illinois.

A primary architect of Illinois' financial turnaround, she eliminated a staggering $16.7 billion bill backlog, secured 10 credit upgrades, and transformed state transparency.

Elected to her third term as the state's Chief Fiscal and Accountability Officer, Mendoza was the state's top vote getter, earning the highest number of votes of any candidate in the 2022 General Election.

Historic Transparency: Authored the Debt Transparency Act and spearheaded the Truth in Hiring Act to ensure honest, accurate budgeting.

Financial Turnaround: Eliminated a historic $16.7 billion backlog of unpaid bills, bringing the vendor payment cycle from a strangling 210 days to well under 30 days—the fastest in over 20 years.

Rainy Day Fund Restoration: Championed the growth of the state's Rainy Day Fund from $48 thousand to $2.4 billion on her watch.

Fiscal Health: Her leadership helped secure 10 full credit upgrades for Illinois and earned her the historic endorsement of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

Saving Taxpayer Dollars: She has focused on paying down debt service early, saving taxpayers millions in interest payments.

Chicago City Clerk

Before her statewide role, Susana made history as the first woman elected as Chicago City Clerk.

She modernized the archaic vehicle sticker program into a Year-Round Sales system, eliminating the hours-long lines, generating millions in new revenue, and earning Harvard University's 2015 "Bright Idea Award".

Under her leadership, Chicago became one of the first large cities in America to ban the sale of puppies, kittens, or bunnies sourced from puppy mills. Many tried before her, but failed. She got it done.
